

THE POCHE WEEKLY RECORD.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1879
LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

I. HYMAN, successor to J. Rosenblum, Jr., has arrived from San Francisco. His intention, at the time of purchase, was to stay here, but owing to the times here at present, he wishes to sell out his entire stock, consisting of Clothing, Dry Goods, Ladies' and Gent's Furnishing Goods of all kinds, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, Trunks and Valises, and all other articles, which are too numerous to mention, must be sold within sixty days from date, at less than cost. This gives everybody a chance to buy their goods cheap, for cash; therefore call and examine my stock of goods before you make purchases elsewhere, as this is the only place where you can buy your goods cheap. Country orders promptly filled on C. O. D., and satisfaction given to buyers the same as though they selected the goods themselves. Don't forget the place.

Address: I. HYMAN,
Main street, Pioche, Nev.
Friday, Dec. 12, 1879. del2-1m.

HILLSIDE MINE.—Work cutting for station on 7th level has been commenced and connection with winze No. 2, east, will be made in a few days. Recent assays of ore-body on west 6th level give a larger per cent. in lead than formerly; the two winzes being sunk on it still carrying the same character of ore and giving average assays. The upraise drift above the main ore-body, extreme east 6th level, has been pushed some 40 feet, showing higher grade ore, but light in lead; winzes No. 1 and No. 2 being pushed ahead rapidly to meet the connection with drift from station of 7th level. The north drift from winze No. 1 has been advanced 19 feet, and from No. 2 21 feet. Good headway is being made stopping on 5th and 6th levels, the greater part of the ore being taken out coming from that part of the mine. New machinery working well.

For first class goods in the Toy line, call at Goodman's.

A BUSY SCENE.—On Sunday last Main street presented one of the busiest scenes that it has been our pleasure to witness here for a long time past. Over thirty wagons loaded with freight forwarded, via Juab, Utah, by the Utah Forwarding Company, arrived here that day. Teams had been delayed on the road by storms and merchants were anxiously expecting their goods for the holidays, so it was a great relief to them when the teams arrived. These teams had freight for nearly half of the business houses in town, and during the unloading process and the packing of goods into stores the thoroughfares were loaded with articles, the town looking lively indeed. One teamster had the good fortune to arrive with the goods in front of the store for which they were destined when the spindle of his wagon broke.

FROM HIKO.—Wm. M. Wilson arrived from Hiko Tuesday evening, he reports that the Valley mill started up on the 2d of December, shutting down once or twice for the purpose of tightening up the machinery but is now running steadily. Joe Griffin, the engineer, has the machinery in first class order. The camp looks prosperous. A new strike has been made in the Fifth of July mine and it is now looking better than ever; the force of workmen has been increased on the mine, night shifts having been put to work. There is, however, no chance for workmen at Hiko as there is a number of men there waiting for work.

OFFICIAL LETTER.—The annexed is the official letter of H. Mill, Superintendent of the Raymond & Ely mine, dated December 12th: "Black ledge looking very well; taking out some very fine ore; by the time the furnace is ready we expect to have it in good shape and to have considerable ore out. The 1000th has improved considerably. Everything around the mine looks very well. The furnace is progressing as fast as possible and by Christmas or New Year we expect to see things booming as in the former days of prosperity."

WILD CATS.—E. Woods, of the firm of Woods & McCullough, who has a large sheep ranch about thirty miles from Pioche, was here about a week since and says that wild cats for months past have been very troublesome to his flock of sheep, having killed over five hundred lambs in about four months. Mr. Woods states that between the 1st of August and 1st of November he has succeeded in killing forty-three wild cats.

CALL and try one of Goodman's 12 1/2 cent Cigars. None better.

CROCKERY.—T. C. Poujade has received a large stock of crockeryware, which he is offering to the public at the very lowest cash prices. This is an excellent opportunity for the young people of Pioche who are about to be married, for they can lay in a "family supply" at a very low price.

GROCERIES.—M. Armer announces to the public this morning that he has received a large stock of fresh groceries and a fine assortment of furnishing goods, and all persons desiring anything in his line of trade will find him at his old quarters ready to wait upon them.

JUDON FULLER publishes a notice this morning, and all persons indebted to the firm of Fuller & Sawyer will do well to read it.

CAVE MINE.—Miners were placed to work on the Cave mine Monday. Work on it will be kept up vigorously.

THE Raymond & Ely pay-day takes place on Wednesday next, the 17th.

THE NEW BONANZA.

Through the courtesy of A. S. Gould, Superintendent of the Day mine, last Tuesday afternoon we availed ourselves of an opportunity of making a visit to Royal City, the metropolis of Jackrabbit Mining District, and after a very cold ride of two hours and a half we were landed in that camp right side up. After taking a little rest, and something else with the boys, we surrendered ourselves to the merciful care of Mr. Curry, the foreman of the Day, and made a visit to that mine, which is now attracting considerable attention throughout this section.

We first went to the ore-house, which was filled with ore that will work $200 per ton. On the dump above the ore-house, near the mouth of the tunnel, there is a large quantity of ore piled up. We entered the tunnel for a distance of 765 feet when we came to the east crosscut, which had been run some 40 odd feet, but nothing, not even the slightest indication, was found. The main tunnel was then shoved ahead for a distance of 30 feet, when a turn to the west was made, and at a point 47 feet distant from the turn the ore was first encountered. Considerable ore was taken out of this place and a winze sunk to the depth of 38 feet from the tunnel level, which makes the bottom of the incline winze 460 feet below the surface of the earth. Here is where the great bonanza is. A drift has been run from the bottom of the winze for a distance of 60 feet, all in ore. The drift in the ore-body is about three feet in width, and you can take a bar and run it into the sides of the drift as far as it will reach, but will find no wall. Here we have a body of ore 60 feet in length and at least eight in width, that we know of, and there is no telling how large it is, for one can sink a bar into the face, sides and bottom of the drift, and will discover that there is "no bottom" to be found. This drift, we should judge, is run in a northerly course, varying a little to the west. The drift has quite a steep incline, which tends to prove that the ore goes down. We took three samples from the face of the drift, which we thought was an average, but not being an ore sharp, we would not be willing to state positively whether we picked out the very richest or poorest pieces; however, we brought them to town and had them assayed by Julius Hoffman, assayer, and this is the result: Fine red, $197.91; fine purple, $2.67; yellow sample, $904.81. About midway in the drift we accidentally pulled off a piece of ore, which is crystallized carbonate, and it assayed $1,395.91. These chunks of crystallized carbonate ore appeared to be very plentiful in the ore-body, from the bottom of the winze to the face of the drift, and we were informed that they at times assayed way up into the thousands. The chunks will weigh from a quarter of a pound to six, and will make the average working of the ore reach a very handsome figure. None of this ore has yet been worked, but they have now commenced the shipment of 100 tons of it to the Raymond & Ely mill at Bullionville, and we place our figures very low when we say it will average at least $200 per ton. This ore is altogether different from the rich ore found in the pocket which was struck 25 feet from the surface. While the ore in that pocket carried 20 per cent. moisture, the ore of the new discovery, which is 435 feet deeper, only carries from eight to twelve per cent., which fact leads us to the belief that the new bonanza ore extends down as well as in length and breadth. Judging from what we saw while in the mine, we should take it to be an immense ore filled with ore, though it may be a true vein. With the present force of men (14) now employed at the mine the company are able to extract 15 tons of ore per day, but should necessarily require it, the company have a whim which can be erected in short order at a trifling expense. The ore-house and dump being full of ore, the ore extracted Tuesday night was dumped in an old drift. A drift is being run from the top of the winze north and is in 47 feet, while another drift is being run to the southwest, and has a length of 60 feet from the turntable. We did not enter the upper workings of the mine, for there was nothing there, and the only object we had in view was to get a look at the late strike. The mine is well ventilated. The following assays were made by Chas. Hopkins, taken from the same samples as those assayed by Mr. Hoffman: purple, $193.67; red, $257.61.

We were indeed most agreeably surprised, for we went there expecting to see nothing but a three or four feet vein of low grade and base ore, which would barely pay for the cost of extraction; but when we got a look at the vast body of ore, we were really astonished. The above description of the Day is given just as we saw it, and we have drawn it very mild too, and if the mine is run for the best interest of the stockholders, we do not hesitate to say that the Day mine will be listed on the "Roll of Honor" and will, within sixty days, become a dividend paying mine. Too much credit cannot be given to Superintendent Gould, for it is alone owing to his energy and perseverance that the Day is now one of the most valuable and richest mines on the Coast at the present time. Mr. Gould took charge of this piece of mining property under discouraging circumstances, two of his predecessors having given it up as utterly worthless, and one of them making a report to the company, stating his why and wherefore, that the mine was worthless and that it was an impossibility for the mine to ever amount to anything, because there was no ore to be had in that vicinity. In spite of this discouraging report Mr. Gould came here and took charge of the mine, and with nothing but hard, blue limestone staring him in the face, with not even the smallest kind of seam to guide him, he went to work with a will, and as fortune favors the brave, it fell to the honor of Superintendent Gould to unearth one of the largest and richest bodies of ore ever discovered in this section.

BRISTOL ITEMS.

Work is still in progress upon the engine furnace and the smelter and machinery are undergoing a thorough overhauling.

The Hillside stands third upon the list of base metal bullion producing mines in the State of Nevada.

The sound of the hammer is heard in all parts of the town and buildings are going up rapidly.

A large bone-kiln is in process of erection, in connection with the refinery.

J. N. Curtis contemplates the erection of a large stone store next Spring.

Real estate has advanced 100 per cent. during the last six months.

A good deal of prospecting is being done at Blind Mountain.

Extras are now being run to get the mails in on time.

The Hillside produced $72,430 on November account.

N. J. Devine is building a new residence.

The Hillside is closed to visitors.

Riepe's hotel is under way.

Toys! Toys!! at Goodman's.

DAY OFFICIAL LETTER.—The following is the official letter of A. S. Gould Superintendent of the Day mine, dated December 12th: "Seven teams will commence hauling our ore to-morrow morning to the Raymond & Ely mill at Bullionville. This ore is of a much higher grade than that we sent to the furnace, and I am encouraged by the assurance of Capt. Mill, the R. & E. Superintendent, that the wet crushing process will prove a gratifying success. We have just now the advantage of hard frozen roads and I expect to have the first lot of ore under the stamps on Tuesday next. Everything in and about the mine is all right. It is estimated that there is from four to five hundred tons of fine ore in sight on the level of the bottom of the incline winze, and more coming in. About eighty tons on the dump.

TEXT BOOKS.—The State Board of Education have had under consideration for some days the question of a change in the public school readers. A number of agents for several publishing houses, both from the East and West, have been before the Board with propositions, and letters of recommendations from different school superintendents have been forwarded to agents of different publishing houses at Carson, recommending their various readers. It was partially concluded to adopt the Appleton series, but the vote having been reconsidered the Board have concluded to let the matter remain in abeyance until the expiration of the contract for the Sheldon readers, now in use. The contract expires on the first day of September, 1880.

SCHOOL REPORT.—Parents will take notice and read the school report, showing the attendance of their children at school. Some of them have been absent nearly the entire month without apparent cause, the children being in good health. If there is anything wrong it had better be reported to the Trustees, as there is no use in keeping the schools open and under expense if the children do not attend.

REDEMPTION FUND.—Bids for the $2,000 now in the redemption fund, and for which certificates of indebtedness of Lincoln county accrued prior to April 1, 1875, will be received, will be opened Tuesday at 1 o'clock by the County Commissioners and the money awarded to those putting in the largest amount of such indebtedness for the smallest amount of money.

PERSONAL.—T. C. Poujade who has been sojourning in Ward and Pioche for a month past, left on Wednesday for his home at Silver Reef. Billy McIntyre well known as former assistant clerk in the Raymond & Ely office, who has been absent from Pioche over a year, returned on Sunday. He is at present employed by the Hillside Company.

BEHIND TIME.—The recent severe storms have rendered the mail road between here and Eureka, in some places, almost impassable for the stages and they are from twelve to twenty hours behind time. An extra with the mails was dispatched from here Wednesday to meet the incoming stage and turn it back.

ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of stockholders of the Mayflower Mining Company will be held December 24th. Transfer books close December 13th, at 12 o'clock m.

NOTICE.—A notice of interest to J. Lewis is published in to-day's RECORD. It refers to his interest in the Independence mine. If said Lewis does not settle his share within ninety days from the date of this publication, his interest will revert to Sam Matanovich & Co.

SETTLEMENT WITH THE STATE.—On Tuesday last the County Treasurer remitted to the State Treasurer $1,305, being the balance due the State of Nevada by Lincoln county for the money received between June 14th and December 8th.

We publish this morning a communication from Mr. Wallace, Agent of the Utah Forwarding Co., explaining the cause of detention of freight at the Terminus of the U. S. R. R. Our merchants will do well to read it.

Some unmitigated scamp, for whom no punishment is adequate, broke into the Episcopal Church during the past week and broke the top of the organ.
